

Job Description

Post: Bank Support Worker (BSW)

DBS status: This role requires an enhanced DBS disclosure with appropriate barred list checks.

Key Purpose:

Provide excellent day-to-day support that respects people's preferences and choices, and enables them to participate in the life of the community as valued citizens.

Job type and hours:

- Who you will be working for: This job involves providing direct support to people with learning disabilities (adults and/or young people and children).
- Where you will be working: You will be supporting people in single occupancy homes, in their family home, in shared supported living, residential or nursing homes, or in work, learning and leisure services. You will be assigned to a single individual or group within a defined geographical area to complete your probation. On completion of probation you will then be allocated additional services where you can pick up shifts.
- When you will work: The role requires flexibility. While on probation you can only work daytime or evening shifts, on weekdays or weekends. On completion of probation, you will also be able to pick up overnight shifts (either waking-nights or sleep-ins). You choose the hours you work but you will be expected to pick up a minimum of one shift a month.

Job role:

The role of a Bank Support Worker requires you to pick up vacant shifts at a variety of services. You will be supporting individuals to lead a life that is centred around enjoying freedom, enabling them to take as much control in their life as possible, and to exercise their rights, responsibilities and obligations as citizens. For Bank Support Workers who work with children, enabling choice and control will involve close liaison with the child's family.

These are the key things you will need to do to ensure you provide excellent support:

- All of your actions will demonstrate respect for the rights of people you support, and for their decisions and choices. You will promote people's individuality, where necessary advocating on their behalf.
- You will support people to achieve their personal outcomes in relation to managing their daily life. This could include support to manage money, use transport, keep their home clean, prepare meals, use community leisure facilities, visit family and friends, and attend school, college or work.
- Some of your time may involve providing physical care, assistance or prompting in accordance with the individual's care plan, respecting their dignity and preferences. This could include supporting people to wash, dress, take medication or manage their continence.
- It's important that you take steps to find out about each person's preferred method of communication, demonstrating active listening and always encouraging their communication, for example through words, pictures, signing or behaviour.

- You will assist people to access mainstream and specialist services and agencies that promote their health and wellbeing.
- Where people do not have capacity to make some decisions in their life (and specifically when working with children/young people up to the age of 16), you will offer support, guidance and advice that is in their best interest.
- Through acting as a bridge-builder you will help individuals connect with others with whom they have shared interests. You will encourage each person to be included in and contribute to their local community, exercising their rights and obligations as a citizen, e.g. through local activities and events, paid work and volunteering. You may also engage volunteers and other non-paid people in increasing the individual's networks.
- You will encourage people to value work, supporting them to find and maintain employment, where this is appropriate.
- Through person centred planning you will coach people to express their aspirations, develop new skills and to recognise and use their talents.
- You will encourage and support people to adventure, to overcome disabling barriers, take risks and to try new things in a safe and supportive manner.
- You will support people to maintain important relationships and grow their social networks, acting as an advocate or mediator where necessary.

This list is not exhaustive and may vary between different people and types of support service.

These are the things we expect from you:

We expect you to act in a professional, co-operative and solution-focused manner at all times, demonstrating accountability for your actions whilst creating an environment that is vibrant and creative rather than restrictive and controlling. As a support worker you will:

- Take appropriate and immediate action to:
 - ensure people with learning disabilities are safeguarded from abuse and to
 - report any instances of alleged abuse which you witness or become aware of.
- Work in a way that promotes trust and builds rapport with each individual, their family and significant others, particularly when supporting children and young people.
- Keep good records, communicate effectively and share information as appropriate whilst maintaining confidentiality and data protection requirements in line with Brandon policies.
- Understand and comply with the standards that you are required to work to, and endeavour to exceed them.
- Be an effective team member, demonstrating flexibility and resourcefulness, and co-operate with colleagues and other people in the best interest of people you support.
- Demonstrate through your actions that you understand and work within the values of Brandon Trust, to include respecting diversity and actively challenging discrimination.
- Comply with all aspects of statutory and local regulations in respect of Health, Safety and Environment.
- Dress and behave appropriately for the support role you are undertaking.
- The ability to drive and willingness to use your own transport on Brandon business is desirable, and may be essential for some services. You will be paid a mileage rate for journeys undertaken for any service, while using your own vehicle.

As a good employer, Brandon Trust will:

- Ensure we have carried out an enhanced DBS disclosure with the appropriate barred check lists on your behalf.
- Provide supervision, appraisal, team meetings, training and access to development opportunities.
- Seek to strengthen your skills and encourage self-development through creating a strong coaching and learning environment.
- Aim to provide good, timely information about Brandon Trust's activities and performance, and actively seek your ideas and feedback.

Brandon Values and Behaviours:

Brandon's values and behaviours underpin all our activities. All employees are expected to demonstrate and promote these values and behaviours in their work.

Safeguarding:

All employees have a duty to take appropriate and immediate action to:

- Ensure people with learning disabilities are safeguarded from abuse and to
- report any instances of alleged abuse which you witness or become aware of.

Confidentiality and Data Protection:

All staff are required to comply with our policies regarding confidentiality and data protection.

Diversity:

Brandon Trust is committed to its diversity policy and practices and it is essential that the post holder is willing to make a positive contribution to their promotion and implementation.

Health and Safety:

The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 placed a legal duty on employees to:

- Take reasonable care of themselves and others who may be affected by their acts or omissions.
- To co-operate with their employer.

The Management of Health and Safety Regulations 1999 increased these duties to include:

- To use equipment and materials in accordance with instruction and training provided by the employer.
- To report serious dangers or potential risks observed to the employer.

Failure to do these four things is an offence in law for which individuals can be fined and, may lead to disciplinary action within the Trust.

The Management of Health and Safety Regulations also require employees to be 'competent' when carrying out the tasks required by the employer. If you do not feel competent to carry out any task required of you, please discuss this with your line manager, the Learning and Development Manager or the Health and Safety Manager.

General

This job description is not an exhaustive list of duties, but is intended to give a general indication of the range of work undertaken. It will vary from time to time in the light of changing demands and priorities of the Brandon Trust. Major changes in the range of work undertaken will only be carried out after consultation with the job holder.

Brandon Values & Behaviours

Our vision

A world where people of different abilities truly belong

Our purpose

We work alongside people of different ability, so they are able to create opportunity and feel empowered to live the life they want

Our values

Our five core values set out how we will achieve our vision ...

Listen hard

I actively listen to understand. I ask questions rather than make assumptions

Make time

I make time to involve, inform and prepare people. I provide feedback on decisions & outcomes that affect them

Provide access

I get to know people to understand what they need, to access place, people and information. I work to make sure that people are not excluded

Take positive risk

I take a positive approach to risk and to trying new things. I am bold, courageous and can ask questions.

Build confidence

I assume capacity and ability. I seek opportunities to act in favour of, and in the best interests of others.

Be responsive

I am person-centred. I think about the person, not just the task.

Be collaborative

I want to work with and learn from others to share ideas, knowledge and good practice

Be prepared

I equip myself with the skills, knowledge, training, tools, equipment & experience that I need. I am diligent

Be adaptable

I am curious and find creative ways around challenges and barriers. I adapt to make things happen

Advocate for others

I encourage people to believe in themselves and fulfil their dreams. I recognise achievement

Make things clear

I communicate with care, in a way that is easy to understand, best suited to the individual

Provide choice

I make decisions with people, not for them. I have confidence in other's ability to contribute & shape the future

Be consistent

I am dependable and I know the standard of work expected of me

Be accountable

I keep the agreements that I make. I acknowledge that freedom & choice comes with responsibilities for my actions

Foster community

I promote connection & social integration, e.g. friendships, social interaction & employment
